Empowered Official:

As a part of its compliance efforts, the University has designated the Director of the Office of Research Compliance as its “Empowered Official” for all purposes relating to applicable federal export control regulations. The Empowered Official shall be a United States citizen, corporation or lawful permanent resident. The Empowered Official is hereby designated and empowered by the University to oversee any of the University’s export licensing or approval activities and to sign license applications or other documentation relating to such licensing or to export approval. The Empowered Official shall be familiar with the provisions of export licensing and approval controls, including the provisions regarding criminal, civil and administrative penalties for violating such provisions. The University hereby explicitly recognizes that the Empowered Official shall have the independent authority to: (a) inquire into any aspect of a proposed export, temporary import or any other transaction within the scope of export control regulations; (b) verify the legality of the transaction and the accuracy of the any information to be submitted to a licensing or approval authority; and (c) refuse to sign any license application or other request for approval without prejudice or other adverse recourse being taken by the University.

Duties of Principal Investigators:

All Principal Investigators at Emory University shall have the responsibility to:

- Consult with the Empowered Official prior to commencing any research that may be subject to federal regulatory export licensing controls to determine whether and how their research may be impacted by such controls.
- Re-evaluate any decision that was made regarding the applicability of such controls at any time that the scope of the project or project staff changes.
- Undertake consultation far enough in advance to permit the Empowered Official and all other appropriate University personnel to review and evaluate the research in question and obtain any necessary license or authorization.

Penalties for Non-Compliance:

Failure of any Emory employee to comply with this Policy and/or the requirements of any applicable federal export control regulations may result in the imposition of sanctions by appropriate University officials up to and including termination, as well the possibility of prosecution by the federal government and the imposition of federal civil, criminal and/or administrative penalties or sanctions.
